

BG anti-Slavery and Human Trafficking statement

What is Modern Slavery?

Modern Slavery is the illegal exploitation of people for personal or commercial gain. Victims are trapped in servitude, which they were deceived or coerced into, and feel they cannot leave. It includes human trafficking.

Common forms of exploitation include domestic servitude, sexual exploitation, forced marriage, forced criminality and forced labour.

Businesses have a key part to play in the effort to tackle this crime and protect vulnerable workers from exploitation.

Section 54 of the UK Modern Slavery Act (2015) requires commercial organisations that operate in the UK to produce a Slavery and Human Trafficking statement each year. The statement should set out the steps the organisation is taking to address and prevent the risk of modern slavery in operations and supply chains. This obligation is also known as the Transparency in Supply Chains (TISC) clause.

Application

The Boussard & Gavaudan Group (BG, which includes all companies of the Group and particularly Boussard & Gavaudan Partners Limited, Boussard & Gavaudan Investment Management LLP, Boussard & Gavaudan Asset Management LP) anti-Slavery and Human Trafficking statement sets out the steps that BG has taken during the year ended 31 March 2019 in order to ensure that no occurrence of modern slavery took place in the Group or in its supply chains.

BG is a provider of financial services with relatively simple supply chains, largely comprising business and professional services organisations. As a result, BG believes that the risk of Modern Slavery at the firm is low. Nevertheless, BG recognises the importance of combating Modern Slavery and our responsibility to ensure it does not exist within the firm's supply chain or any part of the business. BG has a zero-tolerance approach to slavery and human trafficking and expects all firms with which it engages to share these values.

BG has several policies and procedures in place to help detect any potential Modern Slavery both within our business and in our supply chains, for example within, but not limited to, the Compliance Manual and Ethics Policy. BG encourages all staff to report any concerns under the firm's whistleblowing policy and BG's staff receive regular training relating to all applicable policies.

As part of BG's ongoing commitment to combat Modern Slavery the firm reviews its policies and procedures periodically to identify any areas where they can be improved and where any further steps to mitigate the risk of Modern Slavery can be taken. This may include measures such as reviewing the Company's policies in order to keep relevant policies updated.

This Statement has been approved by the Board of Directors.

BG will provide a copy of the statement to anyone who makes a written request. BG will publish its statement as soon as reasonably practicable after the end of each financial year in its intranet (Z/BG Human Resources Data) and website (boussard-gavaudan.com).
